5. Enosburg Rec Day 6/25

-Margo is here to discuss. 9-Noon. Looking to increase visibility of the fields. Hosting games, open play etc. There will be lunch, all free to the public. Do we have interest to be involved in any capacity. Katherine suggested donating bubbles, sidewalk chalk etc. a different kind of recreation for age groups. Sarah is bringing bubbles from the library. Shawna will put together baskets that can be raffled and bring them to Margo. Katherine also suggested that we get ice cream cards from the local stand $50 that can be given to the first to attend the Rec Day event.

6. EI updates

Suzi has some thoughts about Vital Village. What if we put on the agenda for the next meeting, regarding vital village so we can have a discussion as a group about what it is/ where it has been and where it could go. EBA should have an opinion and presence in the discussion because it is involving our main street and businesses. The EBA has never come out with a position on the vital village discussion. Going forward it is a funding and permitting issue. The EI is wanting to be ready when the grants come up. This year it wasn't felt that they were ready and so the grant cycle passed. There is now have a village manager in place. EI wants to present a list and timeline to be ready for spring. Suzi feels it is important for EBA to have a position on that to support our business all around. She expressed that EBA needs to be more vocal about issues and be proactive around policies and ordinances and representing our businesses.

It was agreed among the group that this was a good idea and Dianna will put it on the agenda for July with a special note in the email that we will be discussing this, and people's input, and opinions should be noted.

EI meets this Thursday and they will be discussing this vital village plan further.

7. New Business

Harvest Fest: There are new people who are coming into the Harvest Fest committee, and they are actively seeking more. Jesse Woods and Kim Covert Airoldi have joined for this festival. The current members are slowly moving away from the committee. Suzi is creating a "handbook" to the festival so that everyone can follow their lead moving forward. Looking for one more person to join in to strengthen the three.

Sandra Ferland with a FCCC update, cat crusades will not do the chair fundraiser this year. It will be set to next year.

No further new business noted.
